NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

DIRECTORS OF THE ART CLUB

OF PHILADELPHIA.

January 1, 1896.

To the Members of the Art Club of Philadelphia:

The affairs of management and progress belonging to the ninth year of the Art Club, present no very pronounced aspect as they pass in review at the year's close. The Board has steadily kept in view the broad purposes of the Club. It believes that a well balanced interest in the dual object of the organization has been fairly well preserved. In its appropriation of moneys to the various demands of both the social and purely artistic enjoyments, careful attention has been given to the claims of each; and although in some cases both interests have been disappointed through the inadequacy of the Club's revenue, there has been a most cordial acquiescence in the Board's enforced conservative action. So, on the whole, a definite progress has been made and the foundation broadened for future development of the ideals set by the organizers of the Club nine years ago.

The Finance Committee of the Board of Directors report that the same careful economy in the management of the affairs of the Club has been adhered to by its administrative committees. Its financial condition shows a material improvement in the assets and liabilities of the organization, when comparison is made between the Treasurer's statements for the respective years of '94 and '95. The income of the Club, however, will not justify liberality in any direction, much less extravagance. By the observance of the same prudence that individuals usually apply to their own affairs, the Club can maintain the comforts and luxuries that are now enjoyed by its members.

Its resources should be husbanded and unnecessary expenditures avoided for some time to come; in fact, until the present period of financial depression shall have finally passed away.

From the Annual Report of the Treasurer, following this, it will be seen that the payments to the Trustees of the Sinking Fund, provided for under the financial rules of the Club, have been fully met. The account stands as follows: $21,700 of the First Mortgage Bonds and $1,100 of the Debenture Bonds of the Club, with $1,945.65 in cash are deposited with the Trustees of the Sinking Fund, George C. Thomas and Charles B. Dunn. The Board desires to avail itself of the occasion to say that the cordial and efficient service rendered to the club by the Trustees of this Fund is greatly appreciated.

The total payments to the Sinking Fund in 1895, including interest upon the bonds in the Fund, was $4,058.90. Two thousand dollars of the Second Mortgage Bonds still remain, but are payable at any time, at the option of the Club.

The Club is practically on a cash basis—the quick assets offsetting the liabilities.

The Annual Report of the House Committee to the Board of Directors presents many points of interest to the members of the Club in general, and it is deemed proper to give in this Report some of its most important statements and suggestions. The Committee states: "In order to keep the agreement made with the Finance Committee to live within the appropriation of six thousand dollars, which is the smallest amount of money upon which the household affairs of the Club have ever been conducted, the strictest economy and closest scrutiny as to the expenditures were required, and while your Committee feels that much more should have been done in the way of renewals and improvements, it has only been enabled to do what necessity demanded. Under all the circumstances, the property of the Club is at present in very good condition.

Out of the six thousand dollars appropriated, it was found at the end of the year that there was an unexpended balance of twelve hundred dollars. The Committee at once applied this amount to refurnishing, renewing and improving such portions of the Club property as urgently required it. During the year, however, much was accomplished to promote the comfort of members and improve the service of the Club. Livery was adopted for the waiters, a bicycle room opened and placed in charge of a porter. A new feature was established in the Restaurant in a table d'hote luncheon served daily, from 12 M. to 2.30 P. M., for forty cents a cover. Fifty mahogany arm chairs were especially designed and are to be placed in the dining room; the unsightly electrolier in the main hall will be removed and replaced by an ornamental and suitable fixture. Forty private letter boxes have been placed in the hall, and a sufficient number of private cue racks placed in the Billiard Room, and the General Coat Room has been supplied with extensive facilities for the accommodation and checking of umbrellas and canes.

In regard to some of these efforts to provide additional comforts for the members of the Club, the Committee expresses regret that they have not been more complete. The bicycle room has proved to be very popular, and at the present time accommodates, on an average, thirty wheels a day. This feature should be encouraged and arrangements made, if possible, to put in a sufficient number of lockers and a shower bath. The effect of the establishment of the luncheon feature in the Restaurant has been to raise the number of luncheons served daily from six or eight up to thirty to fifty covers, and on Saturdays the number frequently rises to eighty. The Committee suggests to the Board a number of requirements for the coming year: The Harrison Safety Boilers, now in use, are worn out and will hardly last another year. They have proven most expensive and unsatisfactory; the repairs for new unions, etc., for the past year amounted to nearly two hundred dollars. They should be replaced by a return tubular boiler of good diameter, and of short length, thus furnishing a rapid steam generator, and one more easily handled and requiring repairs which, in comparison to the requirements of our present plant would be almost as nothing."

Upon the important subject of Electric Lighting the Report of the House Committee is so full that it has been thought proper to present it at length in this Report.

ELECTRIC LIGHTING.

“The proprietor of the Stratford, Mr. Boldt, has notified the House Committee that when the present contract to light the Club by electricity expires, which takes place on May 1st, 1896, it will not be renewed. According to this contract the proprietor of the Stratford Hotel agrees to furnish the light required by the Art Club for $3,600 a year. Arrangements might be made with the Edison Company to furnish the light for $5,000 a year; but in this era of low prices for plants of this kind, we think space enough could be found in the cellar for a direct-coupled dynamo and engine which, with the new boiler, would place this matter under the control of the Club and, after the primary expense, would result in the saving of a large sum of money yearly. No additional expense would be required for the Engineer and help.

Whilst these improvements and additions are being made, if a refrigerating apparatus should be put in at the expense of $2,650, it would result in saving the Club at least $400 to $500 a year.”

COST OF IMPROVEMENTS SUGGESTED.

Two return tubular boilers, 125 pounds pressure,	$1,700 00
Smoke connection,	75 00
Steam pipe valves and coverings,	125 00
	<hr/>	$1,900 00

HEATER.

Feed water heater,	155 00
------------------------------	--------

ENGINES AND DYNAMOS.

Two direct connected engines, and dynamos, about 400 lights each, on foundations,	$4,100 00
One direct connected engine and dynamo, 120 lights,	1,100 00
Switchboard and connection, three main switches, six small switches, one ground, on white marble,	350 00
	<hr/>	5,550 00

REFRIGERATING.

One three-ton refrigerating machine to cool boxes and make 500 pounds of ice in a day,	$2,650 00
Steam pipe valve and fittings to connect the above,	300 00
	<hr/>	2,950 00
Total,	<hr/>	<hr/> $10,555 00

The House Committee has computed that once this apparatus has been put in place it will show a saving of $2,211.60 a year.

THE LIBRARY.

The Library Committee in its Annual Report to the Board states that during the past year it has received the interest on the Pepper Fund and moneys in bank, $227.08, and from appropriation by the Club, $400, making in all $627.08. This amount has been expended for books and journals, and for the complete catalogueing of the Library. It now contains 2,300 volumes.

An appropriation of $800 was made by the Board of Directors for supplying newspapers, illustrated journals and monthly magazines. The bills for these subscriptions were paid by the Treasurer of the Club, and the vouchers are in the possession of that officer.

The Committee express obligations to the following donors of books, which were received during the past year:

Mr. Edward Shippen,	Mr. Henry G. Bryant,
Mr. C. Willing Littell,	Mr. Albert H. Slape,
Mr. George W. Pettit,	Mr. James S. Coates,
Mr. T. Chester Walbridge,	Hon. Henry H. Bingham,
Dr. Frank Woodbury.

EXHIBITIONS.

The annual exhibitions of Oil Paintings and Sculpture and of Water Colors, as provided for under the rules of the Club, were given during the year. Special exhibitions were also held in the Gallery by individual artist members of the Club. The following table gives the record of all these exhibitions as correctly as it has been possible to make it:

The awards of the Art Club Medals have been made to the following :

Water Color Exhibition—Gold Medal awarded to Charles Mente.

Exhibition of Oil Paintings and Sculpture—Gold Medal awarded to Edmund C. Tarbell, for Painting. Gold Medal awarded to Frederick MacMonnies, for Sculpture.

A notable exhibition of Original Black and White Drawings, the work of the most eminent artist illustrators of the country, was held in the main gallery, from October 25th until November 7th, under the auspices of The Ladies Home Journal. While this occasion was one in which neither the Board or Exhibition Committee had voice or direction, it is at once a pleasure and a duty in compiling this record of the year, that the Directors note the general satisfaction in this exhibition which was evinced by Club members and the public. It was artistic and interesting, and unique in the range of exhibitions held in our galleries. The attendance for the twelve days was 14,839 by ticket, not including the visitors by the Club entrance.

RECEPTIONS, ETC.

There were three Receptions given in the Club Galleries to distinguished visitors to our City during the year. Two of these were formal afternoon Receptions to which ladies were invited, and one an evening occasion, more or less informal.

The first was given on the afternoon of May 19th to Mr. and Mrs. H. Beerbohm Tree, at which 994 Club members and invited guests participated. The second formal Reception was given on the afternoon of November 9th to Mr. Hall Caine, at which 478 members and their friends attended.

The evening Reception was tendered to Mr. Jean Francois Raffaelli by the Club on the evening of March 30th, and the well-filled galleries proved the kindly friendship and esteem held by its members for this distinguished artist.

LECTURES, ETC.

A superbly illustrated Lecture on "St. Petersburg and the Art Treasures of the Czar," was given on the evening of February 4th by Mr. Sidney Dickinson, M. A., F. R. G. S., which was enjoyed by an audience of four hundred and ten.

At the monthly meeting of the Club on the evening of April 6th, Mr. Stewart Culin, Director of the Museum of Archæology of the University of Pennsylvania, delivered a most interesting Lecture on "The History of the Game of Cards."

The officers of the Club, under the sanction of the Board, made an effort during the year to introduce at the monthly meetings of the Club a series of interesting talks by artist members, regarding their experiences in more or less unfrequented places. That they have not been more successful in showing larger results is entirely due to the interruption of the Summer vacation, and to the fact that other more practical matters claimed the Club meetings for several evenings during the Fall. However, a good start has been made, as will be seen, and it is confidently expected that this pleasant series will be almost uninterrupted the coming year.

On the evening of May 4th, Mr. Charles E. Dana gave an entertaining and instructive Talk upon the curious old town of Gruyère, and his artist experiences there.

On Saturday evening, November 2d, Mr. Frank Miles Day gave a finely illustrated Talk on "Girgenti and Taormina," with many views of those interesting architectural remains in which these by-ways of Sicily are so rich.

The musical entertainment given on the occasion of the Raffaelli Reception on March 30th, was under the direction of Prof. Henry Gordon Thunder, Chairman of the Music Committee. The Smoker, which formed part of the evening's entertainment, was excellently provided by the House Committee.

The monthly attendance of members and visitors to the Club and Galleries during the year is given in the following table which it has been the usage to include in the Annual Report:

THE PARIS PRIZE.

The envoi of the holder of the foreign Scholarship established by the Club in June, 1892, and known as the Paris Prize of the Art Club of Philadelphia, was received and exhibited in the Gallery early in June, 1895. The delay in sending it seemed to have been caused by the failure of the Commission of Control in Paris to inspect the work and prepare its report earlier in the season, and to be in no sense attributable to any neglect on the part of the holder of the scholarship, Mr. George Bladen Fox to conform conscientiously to the terms of the agreement under which he received his appointment. A strict construction of these terms, however, would have required that the envoi for the second year of his incumbency should have been received by the Club at the very beginning of the year 1895. The work finally submitted, a copy of Giorgione's "The Concert," in the Pitti Gallery at Florence was, however, so satisfactory in itself, and the Report of the Commissioners of Control, submitted through Mr. Gerome, so encouraging, that a certain latitude regarding the time at which the picture should have been sent with the report thereon, was deemed permissible. The conditions under which Mr. Fox was appointed, required that at the end of his third year, he should submit an original picture with a figure subject to be "forwarded to Philadelphia in season to be exhibited at the Fall Exhibition of the Art Club." While the work called for under the terms of the first and second years was intended to represent school studies and a copy of an approved example, the requirements of the third year were regarded as of the highest importance in determining the grounds on which the scholarship should continue to be held. It was with this view that the date was definitely fixed for the reception of the work of the third year, and it was held that a failure to comply with the conditions indicated would admit of but one construction and could lead to but one result.

Mr. Fox failed to send the picture at the time specified in his contract with the Club, and admitted in a letter to the Secretary, that this failure was not due to any oversight or misconstruction of the terms of his agreement. At a very full meeting of the Jury of Appointment, held at the Club House on November 25th, 1895, it was unanimously resolved that as Mr. Fox had neglected to comply with the conditions governing his appointment, the Jury was unable to recommend his re-appointment for another year. The Board of Directors subsequently approved and confirmed this action of the Jury of Appointment, and in view of the difficult and delicate duties and responsibilities which were found to be inseparable from the administration of the matters involved, and in view, moreover, of the serious question which has more than once been raised, as to whether the voluntary acceptance of such obligations was properly to be regarded as a legitimate function of such an organization as the Art Club, it was decided after careful consideration, to abolish the scholarship.

This was accordingly done by a resolution unanimously adopted by the Board at the regular meeting in November last.

NECROLOGY.

The Club has suffered during the year the loss by death of several of its earliest, most loyal and honored members. Among these were men whose names were synonyms for all that is noblest and best in that union of business integrity and unselfish aims, with genuine public spirit, of high personal character with genuine good fellowship, which ennobles the life of Clubs, as it constitutes the true glory of all communities. And among them, too, were men who have done much to make American Art respected and admired. Mr. Rothermel, the first honorary member to be elected by the Club, was one who possessed in an extraordinary degree those qualities which triumph over adverse conditions and distinguish the true artist, whose call to his profession is genuine and imperative.

Of what Art in America has suffered in the loss of Thomas Hovenden, this is not the place to speak. But the lessons of love of country and of humanity itself; of loftiest patriotism and tenderest affection, which beyond that of any contemporary painter, his works embody and proclaim, are not more sure of being heeded and cherished than is the memory of his genial and generous life abiding with those whose privilege it was to know him as we knew him as a fellow member of this Club.

The Board, in conclusion, desires to express its high appreciation of the work performed by the various standing Committees during the year.

The ready co-operation in the general policy of management adopted by the Board as well as the serious and helpful consideration of all matters of specific reference, which the Club Committees have one and all shown, are substantial evidences of unselfish fidelity to Club duties. This is, moreover, an incidental assurance of that abiding fellowship and cordial appreciation of the Club's homelike characteristics, which stands a living principle among the membership at large.
